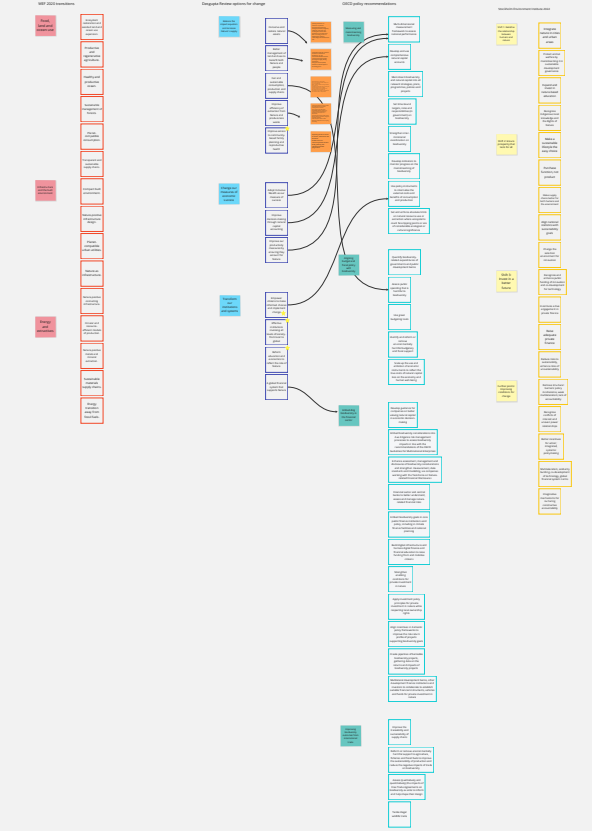
Nature Positive Scotland - Sources

Outcomes / activities / levers from each source



NBF 2020 transitions
Food, land and ocean use
Protection and restoration of natural ecosystems
Engaging with and adopting agriculture
Healthy yield production modes
Sustainable management
Ocean stewardship
Protection of vulnerable marine habitats
Climate and environmental governance
Protection of land environment
Nature-positive infrastructure
Nature-positive urban settlements
Nature-positive infrastructure
Energy and resourcing
Income and investment for nature-positive transition
Mainstreaming nature in all economic sectors
Sustainable financial models, markets, incentives
Energy transition and nature-positive resource supply
Degrade-Review options for change
Direct or indirect impacts on biodiversity
Sectors causing biodiversity loss
Agriculture
Forestry and other land use
Fisheries and aquaculture
Infrastructure development
Urban development
Extractive industries
Pollution and waste
Invasive alien species
Climate change
Change your lifestyle or consumption patterns
Consumption
Lifestyle choices causing biodiversity loss
Lifestyle and consumption patterns
Transitions for consumption patterns
Food
Housing
Mobility
Leisure
Health
Education
Information
Finance
Supply chains
Governance
Institutional arrangements
Institutional arrangements and governance
Regulation
Incentives and disincentives
Subsidies and other financial incentives
Public procurement
Knowledge
Knowledge and information
Research and innovation
Capacity building
Technology
Technology and innovation
Technology and innovation
Finance
Finance and investment
Finance and investment
Finance and investment