Subject: Response to Scotland's first coastal and marine park

Dear Nikki
I am responding on behalf of CIRIA (Construction Industry Research and Information Association).

In response to chapter 1
We believe that a Coastal and Marine National Park will address the issues of coastal management. The park will form an infrastructure by which Integrated Coastal Zone Management can be carried out, ensuring that the needs of all stakeholders are included in the consultation process. We also believe that as the park will straddle adjacent coastal cells and sub-cells, then a truly integrated solution to the management of the coast can be achieved.

We have no response to chapter 2

We have no response to chapter 3

Regards
Nick Bean
