I am writing to comment on proposals for a draft Order under powers contained in the

Smoking, Health and Social Care (Scotland) Act 2005 to raise the age of purchase of tobacco products from 16 to 18 and the related draft partial Regulatory Impact Assessment.

The proposal should be scrapped.

Infantilising our young folk is to head in entirely the wrong direction..

There should instead be a single age of majority of sixteen for all citizens, with all age discrimination thereafter made unconstitutional.
