

The Scottish Government
Climate Change Bill Consultation
1-G North, Victoria Quay
EH6 6QQ Edinburgh

Dear Cabinet Secretary for Finance and Sustainable Growth, John Swinney MSP Dear Mr Swinney,

As a Scot currently living in England i was proud to hear the ambitious and appropriate proposals being considered by the Scottish parliament.

Information from a wide range of scientific sources is making it clearer that we have a short period to take dramatic action to avert irreversable climate change which will impact the wellbeing of many future generations. Strong action by governments, such as this bill, are needed to support individuals and private enterprise to make these dramatic improvements in the sustainability of our economies.

It is also clear, based on the historic behaviour of countries, that the West, having created the problem and emitted the majority of pollutants currently causing problems, needs to show leadership such as the proposed Bill.

I strongly urge you to include:

- year on year targets of 3% reduction.
- Targets of 80% reduction by 2050

In the future i hope to return to Scotland. Such forward thinking policies help to convince me that I will feel at home in modern Scotland.

I am replying as an individual and am happy for my response and name to be made public, but not my address.

Yours sincerely,

Tim Daw
