

We manufacture animal feeds sold throughout the UK and prefer the status quo whereby one government organisation is responsible for food safety throughout the UK.
Any other scenario would increase costs and red tape.