

MPA 10059

MPA

Network Consultation,

Scottish Government Equidance.

Finding Oct 4

Dear Sir,

For some considerable time, as a confirmed bird-watcher, I have noted the steady decline in sea-bird numbers. Visiting coastal sites from North Northumberland up to sites near Edinburgh this sad state of affairs has been all too apparent.

Accordingly I would suggest that seabirds be added to all marine Protected areas, plus sand-eels, an essential source of food.

Yours,

J. D. LOUGH.